Course text: The textbook for the course is Calculus (6th Edition), by James Stewart.

Grading scheme:
- Homework: 15%
- Quizzes: 15%
- Midterm total: 36%
- Participation: 4%
- Final: 30%

Class participation includes being present and attentive in the class, asking (and answering) questions, and visiting me during office hours when required.

Grading scale: A very rough grading scale is given below.
A: 86 – 100%,  B: 71 – 85%,  C: 56 – 70%,  D: 41 – 55%,  F: 0 – 40%

Homework: Homework is due at the beginning of class. Assignments and due dates will be posted on the course webpage.

Quizzes: A number of pop quizzes will be given throughout the semester. These will be fairly straightforward and won’t require special preparation if you follow the material in the class.

Exam Schedule

Midterms:
- Midterm 1: February 18
- Midterm 2: March 25

Final exam: The final exam is cumulative and is scheduled for Monday, May 10 from 1:30 p.m. until 3:30 p.m. in the same classroom where the lectures are held. All exams must be taken at scheduled times, except in extreme circumstances. So be careful not to make travel arrangements that conflict with the exam times.
General course policies and guidelines:

- Calculators and other electronic gadgets. Calculators will not be required and hence not permitted during the exams. Please keep your cell phones, mp3 players and other electronic devices switched off during the lectures.

- Homework. You are encouraged to work in groups but you should submit your assignments individually. Please write your name, id #, course name/section and assignment # clearly at the top of the first page of your assignment. Late submissions will not be accepted.

- Class attendance and participation. It is important to attend all lectures and be attentive in class. Please do not hesitate to ask questions.

- Periodic review of progress. I will review your progress in the course after each midterm exam. If your scores are not satisfactory, I may ask you to contact me during office hours to discuss your performance. This is done to ensure that I know exactly what problems you might be having, and to find a way to solve them.

- Exceptional circumstances for late submissions/make-up quizzes and exams. Late submission of homework may be accepted and make-up exams conducted only if you have a valid and documented reason for the delay/absence. In all other cases, you will be awarded zero points on that specific homework/exam/quiz.

Academic misconduct: Cases of academic misconduct are inexcusable and will be dealt with according to University Regulations. For details on University’s policies concerning academic misconduct consult http://www.ou.edu/provost/integrity

Student disabilities: The University of Oklahoma is committed to providing reasonable accommodation for all students with disabilities. Students with disabilities who require accommodation in this course are requested to speak with me as early in the semester as possible, Students with disabilities must register with the Office of Disability Services prior to receiving accommodation in this course. The Office of Disability Services is located in Goddard Health Center, Suite 166, phone 405-325-3852 or TDD only 405-325-4173.
